REPORT
HATE

Why Report:
OC Human Relations is the only agency in Orange County that tracks hate incidents and hate crimes and produces an annual report that is shared with public officials, universities, police departments and people in positions of power who can make changes.
We can only do it with your help, please report!

REPORT IT

- Please consider your safety first – physically or online. If you are in danger, please call 911

- If you are the target of a hate crime or witness it, call the police immediately or we urge you to report it to OC Human Relations at www.ochumanrelations.org/hatecrime or call 714-480-6580.

SPEAK UP

- If you witness hate or bigotry (in-person or online)

  - Speak up against bigotry, particularly if you're not the target.

  - Commit to interrupting, questioning, educating and echoing to fight hate rhetoric.

  - If you feel safe to do so, ask questions to better understand why the person said or did what they did.
    - "Why do you think that?"
    - "Where did you get that information?"
    - "What made you say that?"
    - Continue the conversation and explain why what they've said or done needs rethinking.

SUPPORT ALLIES

- Support other allies in the fight against hate.

  - When someone else speaks up, echo them.

  - Thank them and emphasize or amplify their message any way you can.

KNOW HATE
KNOW IT. UNDERSTAND IT. CHANGE IT.
